

SEW AND TELL

'Project Runway' makes a three-piece debut on a new channel

The appeal of Project Runway" as always been tant trumping reality-TV drama. The spiring fashion designers who participate as contestants in this show do more than pose and out, unlike so many of the other characters who fuel the scripted-TV explosion.

As the show finally enters its sixth season — today at 9

DAVE WALKER

On the Air

p.m. on Lifetime — most of the "Project Runway" drama has occurred in courtrooms, not fitting rooms.

The company that owns the show announced its move from Bravo to Lifetime. The company that owns Bravo sued. A settlement was announced. With the dark suits and black robes in

See WALKER, C-5

PROJECT RUNWAY ON LIFETIME

'PROJECT RUNWAY: ALL-STAR CHALLENGE'

Eight participants from past seasons compete for a $100,000 prize. Today, 7 p.m.

'PROJECT RUNWAY'

The modeling competition series moves from Bravo to Lifetime. Today, 9 p.m.

'MODELS OF THE RUNWAY'

Reality series about the professional models who work for the 'Project Runway' designers. Today, 10 p.m.

LA. RUNWAY

New Orleans woman to appear on 'Project Runway' and the new 'Models of the Runway' companion show

By Susan Langenhennig

Fashion writer

It sure has been a good year for models with Louisiana roots.

Ariel Meredith of Shreveport graced the pages of Sports Illustrated's swimsuit edition this spring. Isidore Newman School senior Cydney Hedgpeth is the international face of Van's clothing. University of New Orleans student Allison Harvard just missed becoming "America's

See RUNWAY, C-2

COURTESY OF LIFETIME

Emarie Wiltz is an Edna Karr High School grad.