

World History Syllabus

K. Asher

Course Outline

World History

- Map skills/Middle Ages
- Renaissance, Reformation, and Scientific Revolution (1450–1770)
- Exploration and Expansion (1450–1770)
- Political Revolutions (1750–1914)
- The Industrial Revolution (1750–1914)
- Nations and Empires (1750–1914)
- Totalitarianism and Global Conflict (1900–1945) Changing World of Superpowers (1945–Present)
- Contemporary World Trends and Issues (1945–Present)

In addition, members of my class will participate in a digital arts program sponsored by The Pearson Foundation and the Digital Arts Alliance. The students will use a movie making program called Adobe Premier to create World History project. The project will combine traditional research, writing, and collaboration activates with digital storytelling to produce a multimedia project. This program affords the students the opportunity to explore new modes of expression, new ways of working independently and with peers, and new way of seeing their own relationship to their academic goals and objectives. This project is scheduled to begin in the 2nd Semester. You will receive a detailed letter informing of the project