

Mashandra Hall possesses an unparalleled passion for the study of education, and clearly understands her role to the success of the students whom she serves and will continue to serve. Ms. Hall, a native of Memphis, TN (Wooddale High School), is currently the Curriculum Assistant Principal at Karr. Prior to her tenure at Karr, she served as Assistant Director of Human Resources for Algiers Charter Schools Association, a Human Resources Specialist for New Orleans Public Schools, Discipline Assistant Principal at Sarah T. Reed High School, and an English teacher for Memphis City Schools, Richmond Public Schools (in Richmond, VA), and New Orleans Public Schools. Simply put, Ms. Hall is no stranger to change.

Ms. Hall came to New Orleans by way of Tulane University where she received a basketball and track & field scholarship and completed her Bachelor's Degree in English from Newcomb College of Tulane University. Xavier University of LA is where she chose to complete her Master's Degree in Educational Administration with a concentration in Supervision of Instruction. Currently, Ms. Hall is in the beginning stages of her pre-dissertation proposal, while working on her Ph.D. at the University of New Orleans. Ms. Hall's ultimate goal—retiring from education knowing that she made an impact in every capacity she chose to serve.
